PLUMAS COUNTY.

From the Plumas National of the 24th we clip the following item in relation to the mining interests of that section:

On Monday last, Mr. N. Cadwallader, Supt. of the Plumas Mining & Water Company's operations, was in town, and from him we learned the following in regard to the clean-up recently made and now being finished up in the Gopher and Badger Hill claims. The company have had but twenty-two days run on Badger Hill, and the clean-up amounted to $9,000, and from fifty-three days' run on Gopher Hill, they will get over $13,000. This will make the total result from both claims something over $22,000 for the season's run. They got about $300 in coarse gold, which was saved for specimens—one piece weighing 76. Mr. C. informs us that they will probably make some improvements in their water facilities during the dry season, which will materially aid them in the future. They have a very valuable mining property, and one that will last for many years to come.

The prosperity of Plumas county should deeply interest every man located in this section and the daily recurring evidences that the mining interests of Plumas are on the wax should stimulate the business men of Reno to endeavor to secure its valuable trade. This is their natural depot. The snows of Winter never interfere with transportation to or from Quincy. In the most severe Winters the route is always open. Self interest, it would seem, would suggest the building of a good road from here to some point in Indian Valley. Such a road would secure to Reno an immense trade and wonderfully increase our prosperity. All mercantile towns of any importance have secured their position by a liberal encouragement of all means of communication with the surrounding country, and in proportion to their expenditures have been their returns. We cannot hope to be any exception to the rule. North of us there is a vast country abounding in agricultural and mineral wealth, which would naturally seek its supplies here and find here a market for its products, provided the proper steps were taken to open an easy means of communication.

PAUPERS.—The Reese River Revue indulges in nearly a column growl over the expense of maintaining paupers in the thinly settled counties of the eastern portion of the State, and suggests as a remedy the establishment of a State poor-house. With all respect we would suggest that the plan legislated upon last Winter for Washoe county is preferable, and probably the best that could be devised. It provides for the establishment of a poor farm at proper distance from any town, upon which shall be received and cared for all indigent sick and paupers. By this means a large portion of the expense attendant upon their support could be obviated, and the most of them compelled to do something toward their own support.

The Miner.—The Carson Appel publishes a statement of the work of the Mint for the fiscal year just ended, during which time gold to the amount of $2,101,095, and silver to the amount of $2,096,858, has been coined, just about double the amount coined during the year 1874.

The Crocker Mining Company, to mine in Lyon county, has been incorporated in San Francisco. Capital stock, $10,000,000, in shares of $100 each. Directors, H. A. Deming, Nathan Atkinson, R. Snowball, T. E. Jewett and George Benson.

THE MOUNTAIN MEADOWS MASSACRE.

From the Salt Lake  Herald of the 24th we clip the following account of the confession or statement of Jno. D. Lee, procured through the kindness of W. W. Bishop—brother of Dr. Bishop of this place—who is noting as attorney for the defense:

It now becomes my painful though imperative duty to chronicle the circumstances that led to, and fully describe that unfortunate affair known as the Mountain Meadows Massacre, in Utah history, which has been shrouded in mystery for the last fifteen years, causing much comment, excitement and vindictive feeling throughout the land. The entire blame has rested upon the Mormon people in Utah. Now, in justice to humanity I feel it my duty to show up the facts as they exist according to the best of my ability, though I implicate myself by so doing. I have no vindictive feelings whatever against any man or class of individuals. What I do is done from a sense of duty to myself, to my God and to the people at large, so that the truth may come to light and the blame rest where it properly belongs.

I have been arrested on the charge of being engaged in the crime committed at the time and place referred to; I have been in close confinement over eight months since my arrest; I was in irons three months of the time during my confinement; for the last seventeen years, in fact, since the commission of the crime, I have given this subject much thought and reflection. I have made the effort to bear my confinement with fortitude and resignation, well knowing that most of those engaged in this unfortunate affair were led on by religious influences, commonly called fanaticism, and nothing but their devotion to God, and their duty to him, as taught to them by their religion and their church leaders, would ever have induced them to have committed the outrageous and unnatural acts, believing that all who participated in the lamentable transaction, or most of them, were acting under orders that they considered it their duty—their religious duty—to obey. I have suffered all kinds of ill-treatment and injury, as well as imprisonment, rather than expose these men, knowing the circumstances as I do, and believing in the sincerity of their motives, as I always have done; but I have a duty to perform, and have, since I was arrested, become convinced that it was not the policy of the government or the wish of the court to punish those men, but rather to protect them and let the blame rest on their leaders, where it justly and lawfully belongs.

After much thought and meditation I have come to this conclusion, that I could no longer remain silent on this subject, but so far as I can bring to the light the circumstances connected therewith and remove the cloud of mystery that has so long obscured the transaction and served to agitate the public mind, believing it to be my duty as a man—a duty to myself, to my family, to my God, and humanity to cast aside the shackles so long holding my conscience in silence, and in pursuance of the disinterested advice of my attorneys I now submit the facts so far as I know them, stating nothing from malice or for the purpose of revenge, holding that I can state of my own knowledge willing that the world may know all that was done and why the acts were committed, I submit the following as the exact unvarying statements of facts and circumstances connected with the crime known as the Mountain Meadows Massacre:

At this point the pages of the confession relating to the details of the massacre were refused reporters for the present, but their character was permitted to be stated as follows:

Lee gives at great length a detailed, concise and alleged perfect statement of the acts and facts connected with the massacre, giving the names of persons, dates and places. He claims to fully expose all classes of men and every man connected with the outrage. He starts with his first knowledge of the emigrant train, following through their unfortunate experiences and conflicts up to the termination of their sad career. He describes all that was done by the murderers after the commission of the crime, and the action of all connected with it; also the action of Brigham Young and the priesthood; also the acts of those in authority, the disposition of the children saved, and the particulars of their delivery to Doctor Farney, the agent of the government, who removed them to Missouri.

The statement of Lee fully explains why, for what reason, and how the tragedy was accomplished, stating the justification relied upon by the participants for the commission of that fearful crime.

The details fix the responsibility for the crime upon Isaac C. Haight and Jno. M. Higbee, commanding officers, the former standing on an eminence and giving the signal agreed upon for the slaughter. After the emigrants had been decoyed out of their stronghold by a flag of truce, the wounded were hauled out and dispatched. There were engaged in the massacre thirty white men and a large number of Indians. The details of the killing of the men, women and children surpass in horror all that has ever been written concerning the massacre, and are more terrible, atrocious and bloody than the most vivid imagination can conjure.

In conclusion he writes as follows:

A few days after the massacre I was instructed by Major Isaac C. Haight, next in command to W. H. Dams, in Iron military district, to carry a report of what had been done to President Brigham Young, at Salt Lake. Haight directed me to give my report and stand up with manly courage, and shoulder as much of the blame as possible, he saying to me that if I did so I should receive a celestial reward. It is my nature never to bind burdens on others, that I am not willing to bear myself. I went to Salt Lake and reported to Brigham Young the exact facts connected with the transaction, shouldering a greater share of responsibility than justly belonged to me.

In justice to Brigham Young I must say that when he heard my story he wept like a child, walked the floor and wrung his hands in bitter anguish and said it was the most unfortunate affair, the most unwarranted event that had ever happened to the Mormon people. He said this transaction will bring sorrow and trouble upon us in Utah. I would to God it had never happened.

After hearing this I returned home with a drooping heart and reported the result of my mission to those in authority over me. Lee says that seventeen children were saved and were all delivered to Dr. Farney, who promised to take them to their friends in Missouri and Nebraska. None of them were killed after the massacre. He sets out that the massacre was the result of military orders, Utah then being under martial law, under command of Brigham Young as governor, Johnstone's army being on the east in Echo cañon, and an invasion being expected from the west by way of California, the Mormon people were in a state of excitement, and acted as desperation dictated.

Attorney Bishop alleges that Lee offered to give the prosecution the names of twenty-five of the murderers and where they could be found, as he believes.

THE PALACE OF INDUSTRY.

Let any one who thinks that Reno is dead call into the blacksmith and wagon shop of McFarlin on the corner of Sierra and Plaza streets and take a good look at the number of men employed and the amount of work going on, and change his mind.

IN MEMORIAM. To-day we are called to the unpleasant task of chronicling the death of Wm. A. Bourne, a son-in-law of Judge Poor, of this place.

THE practice of discharging fire arms on the public streets after night is becoming too common, and the officers should use their utmost endeavors to suppress it.

LETTERS HELD.—There is detained in the Reno office a letter addressed to Geo. A. Moore, Esq., San Francisco, Cal., for lack of postage.

LUSUS NATURÆ.—This morning a lady from Hot Springs, Lake Tahoe, brought us a freak of nature in the shape of two eggs united at the ends by a ligament "alle same" Siamese Twins.

Yesterday we noticed Mr. Bradley, commonly known as old Jim, with a good suit of cloths and sober. Wouldn't wonder if he had taken another outh.

HOT, hotter hottest; such has been the character of our weather for the last few days. Anxious friends fear that Nelse Hammond and Billy Walker will melt.

ONE of our citizens complains of a hook and ladder company in town. He says they use their ladder to get into his coop and then hook his chickens.

THE funeral of Mr. Bourne took place yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. A large number of people turned out to show their respect for the deceased.

SCHOOL FUND.—Washoe county receives of the school fund from the State, the sum $1,391 08. The number of children for which that appropriation is made is 576.

ANOTHER.—Yesterday a heavy logging truck for Mackey & Fair's camp arrived in Reno. At present it is in the hands of M. J. Smith for repairs.

NEW GOODS.—We noticed in passing Sunderland's shop to day that he was receiving an invoice of new goods. Bully for John!

JAMISON and Mr. McCan are talking of going into partnership. Cause why, they both have their buildings in the streets.

MENEN had a row with a Chinaman yesterday about a water-melon. At last accounts Menke was nowhere to be found and the Chinaman was parading the streets with a gun.

APOLOGY.—Any deficiency in this issue of the JOURNAL or any other during the week an indulgent public will please attribute to the absence of the editor.

J. E. BORLAND, who was appointed a Notary Public, has filed his commission with W. R. Chamberlain and C. T. Bender as bondsmen.

RECOVERING.—The man Karl who broke his leg at Crystal Peak is rapidly recovering and will soon be able to be about.

"THE officers of the Alliance are gentlemen experienced in the business of life insurance and familiar with the duties they have assumed. The directors are gentlemen prominent in the State and in business circles. The Company appears to start correctly as a life insurance company, pure and simple, free from all 'clap trap' inducements and advantages and as such it has our hearty wish that its future may be one of uninterrupted increase and prosperity."

YOU that are in need of a good boot or shoe, and a neat fit, go to John Sunderland's shoe store on Virginia street, the only exclusive boot store in Reno. He makes all kinds of gent's boots and shoes to order, and keeps the finest stock of ladies, misses and children's shoes this side of San Francisco.

FURNITURE repaired at B. H. McClure's furniture store.

NEW GOODS.—Mrs. McNeely has just received a new and beautiful lot of goods of the latest styles and colors, consisting of ready made suits, dry goods, muslins, prints, white goods of all kinds, tablelinen, towels, napkins, black silk, hosiery, two-button gloves, gent's kid gloves, also handkerchiefs, ladies handkerchiefs, parasols, Spring shawls, corsets, zephyrs. Millinery and fancy goods of all kinds.

NOTICE.—Mr. Nels. Greenman is no longer our authorized agent. Our patrons will govern themselves accordingly. Su Lee & Co.

INTERESTING TO THE LADIES OF KENO AND YACINTIX.—The new dress-making establishment opened by the Misses Vance, on Plaza street, opposite the freight depot, will receive and make to order in the latest styles, all kinds of plain and fancy sewing.
